

Booz Allen Completes Acquisition of Defy Security

Apr 07, 2026

Accelerating Advanced Cybersecurity for New Age of Enterprise Threats

MCLEAN, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Apr. 7, 2026-- Booz Allen Hamilton (NYSE: BAH) today announced it has completed its acquisition of Defy Security. The transaction was previously announced on February 17, 2026.

Defy provides cybersecurity technology products and services to leading financial services, healthcare, manufacturing, and retail enterprises. Combining its robust customer base, sales infrastructure, and vendor ecosystem with Booz Allen's deep expertise in nearly all major commercial and federal cyber missions creates a new powerhouse to help customers combat accelerating cyber threats.

Together the companies will deliver highly competitive, end-to-end, tech-enabled cyber solutions across U.S. and international commercial and federal markets—including Booz Allen's AI-native cyber product suite Vellox™, which pairs machine-speed automation with models trained by elite cyber operators to outpace adversaries.

"Today's AI-enabled threat environment moves at unprecedented speed. Joined with Defy Security, we can help more enterprises around the world innovate ahead of pervasive cyber threats and protect their most critical assets," said Andrew Turner, executive vice president and head of Booz Allen's global commercial business.

"Booz Allen and Defy share a commitment to growth, collaboration, and technical excellence," said Justin Domachowski, founder and CEO of Defy Security. "We look forward delivering tremendous value to customers together as we set a new standard for enterprise cybersecurity."

Booz Allen retained AGC Partners as exclusive financial M&A advisor, PwC as accounting and tax advisor, King & Spalding as legal advisor, and Oliver Wyman for strategic industry advisory services. Defy Security retained J.P. Morgan Securities LLC as exclusive financial advisor and Choate, Hall & Stewart LLP as legal advisor. Defy Security is backed by Sverica Capital, a technology-focused private equity firm that partners with management teams to scale lower middle-market companies into industry leaders.

Defy Security will initially operate as a wholly owned subsidiary of Booz Allen.
